

Understanding the impact of life experiences on maternal wellbeing and mental health

NCMH
National Centre for Mental Health

Help make a difference by taking part in our maternal wellbeing and mental health survey

The National Centre for Mental Health works to improve diagnosis, treatment and support for people affected by mental illness.

This study aims to capture the effects that life events have had on your experiences of pregnancy.

You can take part online by visiting: bit.ly/maternalLSCFT

Get in touch

If you have any questions about our research:
info@ncmh.info
029 2068 8401

